More number of choices to be opened for the students to choose among various streams.

Feedback Employers:

Employers are the major stakeholders whose feedback give us input regarding enhancing the employability of our students. Their feedback is valuable for us as it provides the basis for further enrichment in curriculum aspects and overall performance of students.

Feedback from the employers has been collected where employers are asked to comment on the curriculum. The following feedback was received:

- Employers are quite satisfied with the relevance of the course and the subjects included in the curriculum.
- The proficiency of the employees working with them is very good and relevant to the real life applications.

Action Taken

- The application of the domain and tools used to design the syllabus is satisfactory but need inclusion of Data Science and Cloud Transformation, more soft skills and interview skills to be introduced.

Feedback Faculty:

- Faculties are of the opinion that the present NEP syllabus or current curriculum supports the students' enthusiasm for higher learning.
- It provides opportunity for applied learning with availability of reference resources and teaching methods.
- A skill Development and Skill Enhancement course enriches the ability of the students to learn the advanced industrial needs.
- The curriculum provides opportunity for conducting research and project related activities. Hence balanced with regard to theoretical and practical knowledge.
- As new courses have been incorporated in the syllabus of UG, faculty members need more number of FDPs to upskill themselves

Action Taken

- Adequate number of FDPs have been conducted to upgrade the knowledge of the faculty members
